BACK TO SCRIPT?

Some communities in Alberta have taken to issuing scrip, and others are being urged to do so. This is a means of getting around an awkward situation when the municipal council finds itself out of funds, and cannot borrow or afford the taxpayers would rebel if they were called upon to pay interest.

Scrip is not money. It is a money substitute, that has been sometimes employed in the past, by governments great and small and by trading organizations. It corresponds somewhat to the I.O.U.'s which sometimes pass among gentlemen who have confidence in each other but are short of cash.

Given universal acceptance in their worth, I.O.U.'s or scrip would be quite as useful a circulating medium as money. The difficulty would be to give the substitute this general acceptability. To do that it would seem to be necessary to establish its value in terms of money. At which point the municipality would have completed the circle and arrived at the point it started from.

THE RELIEF CAMPS

It will be welcome news to many single unemployed men, and also to city taxpayers, that Ottawa has at last completed its plans and will open the proposed relief camps at once.

The men are promised a better living in the camps than they are getting in the cities, with a small amount of pocket money in addition. The Dominion and Provincial Governments will bear the whole cost of the camps, and the cities will be to that extent relieved.

The present plans are to provide for 500 single men from Edmonton in the camps, and for an equal number from Calgary. There are several times that number of single unemployed men in either city. With this arrangement will ease the situation in both centres, and it will be for either of them a solution of the problem of providing for single men in season.

It is quite certain that since the depression began two or three times this number of single men have migrated from the city to the country into these two cities. The communities from which they came have thus been relieved of a burden that properly belongs to them. The cities that have not done this just as the Governments should open up more camps and take care of two or three times the proposed number from either city.

CONDITIONAL HIGHWAYS ONLY

The damage done to the provincial telephone system in southern Alberta by the April blizzard was not a circumstance to what wet spring weather and heavy traffic did to provincial highways in all parts of the province.

Generally speaking the fact appears to be that our gravelled highways for a time ceased to be. Repairs on some of them amount almost to reconstruction. That was foreseen during the legislative session, fortunately, and the Minister declined to consider any program of new highway construction until he finds out how much money he will have left after re-making the highways which were damaged in former years.

It is to be the order of things in future years, whenever a wet spring happens again. Obviously it will, unless highways are differently constructed. The present program is merely exercised to understate the damage to the highways while the spring thaw is in progress, and when periods of unusual rainfall occur.

Paved highways would of course stand up under all weather conditions, but paved highways are simply out of the question. It is also out of the question that millions of dollars can be spent every year in reconstructing gravelled highways. The alternative is to build roads that means ruining the roads. The moral of the present experience is that our "permanent" highways are only permanent in wet weather for heavy traffic purposes.

THE "BEGGAR MY NEIGHBOR" POLICY

The policy that all have agreed to do to reduce properly is to rob the rich is not confined to soap box orators. A member of the Canadian parliament proposed for economic life the better day by saying he would confiscate all incomes in excess of $25,000. An Arkansas senator goes one better, and would confiscate both incomes beyond a fixed amount and incomes over a fixed amount.

Neither of them suggests by way of com-penation that he would guarantee either income or employment to everybody, or to anybody. Legislators never play the game on the level with the taxpayer when they single out for a special penalty. If he makes money they grab it. If he loses, they do not care. They are the profiteers in schemes for making people poorer, but woefully barren of plans to help them get richer.

The moral assumption of these confiscatory-inclined souls is that they use money to greater public advantage than does the man who owns it. The latter, they seem to imagine, turns it over when he gets bored, or it bores him, or hides it away. The fact of course is that he puts it to use, in the running of factories and stores and farms and mines, thereby giving employment to other people and producing more wealth, in which the community shares.

The money that is collected in taxes is not spent in unproductive industries. A good deal of it goes in street waste. The bulk of it goes for public services, most of them good and themselves but costing far less for the community. The more of private capital that is taken from pockets and spent in these ways, the less remains for carrying on the industrial production of goods and services.

If our legislators were as glib in spending money well as they are in demanding more of it to spend, they would not have come now to the point where they are. It would be a policy of racketeering by taxation without regard to other personal rights or economic consequences.

Helplessness

By EDGAR A. GUEST

He seemed to tremble and when he came in to tell his grief to me. I was on my way to bed. That I had heard that very day. A dozen tales of hurt and woe. From others whom I chanced to know. And that I was to be a part of it. And let him take as best he could.

He was a man I never seen. To me he was could little mean. I could have said him off unheard. With a cry and said word.

Then he told me of his wife. Whom I had turned my back upon. And thinking thus, I heard him through. Though there was little I could do.

The thing that hurts I trouble's clutch is not that one must do so much. But that full friendship, at its best. So very small can bestow.

To see another's world of woe. And that it was to be a part of it. From those it cannot help at all.

Keeping Mentally Fit

By JOSEPH JASTROW, A.B., PH.D., LL.D.

EMOTIONS AND DEPRESSIONS
On all sides I am assailed by inquiries in several forms which all amount to this: How far is this depression depression psychological? Viewed more closely, the questions divide into two. The first is general. Can we not, by just being cheerful about it, help matters along? The second is more specific. Is it a daily down and cheerless or a daily down and cheerful? The answer to the first is, "No, not at all." The answer to the second is, "Yes, in a certain sense." All of which is fine in intention and weak in technique.

Dr. J. Jastrow
Either all of this is just whistling in the wind to keep one's nerves or the ready talk of one who doesn't need the exercise. Keep up courage, of course. But do it by the way. It is well to be cheerful. In the three first, hand and head of one's anatomy, put the emphasis in that order. Heart comes first, then hand, then head. Just to come in contact with one person who is not depressed is to get a tonic that large doses of resolutions read morning and evening, that goes to the heart. Getting over one fit of blues and going to work at what is left to be done is more to the point than hours of reflection. It is mood and muscles that must be worked upon. The contention of example in the first is of that order.

We will not neglect the head. But the intellectual end of the depression is not the most affected. It is only one of the partners of Hand, Head & Heart. Preaching, however effective, is turned into a crusade, into something to be done. Unemployment is so devastating because it leaves the hands idle and frees the head to brood upon the dreaded future. It is emotional that it is so pernicious. It is unreasonable to expect all persons to reach depression all by way of being opposed to the same exhibition. Every person must struggle with his own temperament. Some are plain cheerful, some achieve it by heroic struggle; very few have it thrust upon them by a succession of good things. At that stage the depression is not so emotional as the little succession, and by the same token are depressed by the constant drip, drip of more loss, more sickness, more worry, more trouble. At that stage the depression is not so emotional as the little succession, and by the same token are depressed by the constant drip, drip of more loss, more sickness, more worry, more trouble.

Some may derive it from charts and tables, others from resolutions, and the sound selection that worry does for lower people is the sound selection that worry does for lower people. It is emotional that it is so pernicious. It is unreasonable to expect all persons to reach depression all by way of being opposed to the same exhibition. Every person must struggle with his own temperament. Some are plain cheerful, some achieve it by heroic struggle; very few have it thrust upon them by a succession of good things. At that stage the depression is not so emotional as the little succession, and by the same token are depressed by the constant drip, drip of more loss, more sickness, more worry, more trouble.

The second order of psychological effect asks that when things are depressed by economic conditions, whether the mental depression reacts on the economic depression. It certainly does. That is what we follow; we affect one another. When many want a thing, do a thing, believe a thing, many more follow; we affect one another. When many want a thing, do a thing, believe a thing, many more follow; we affect one another.

Comment

From the monthly letter issued by the Canadian Bank of Commerce:

History records numerous instances of the failure of governments to restore prosperity, except for short periods, by the application of the principles of that required by trade, or, in other words, leaving fiat currency. When there is departure from the gold standard, the result is a depression, and the depression is a depression. The result is a depression, and the depression is a depression.

Many who are suffering from depression are not aware of the fact that depression is a depression. The result is a depression, and the depression is a depression. The result is a depression, and the depression is a depression.

HERE'S GREAT YARN FOR THAT FELLER RIPLEY

Both Friend and Foe Wore Khaki in Africa With Disastrous Results

Here's a good "Believe it or Not" story handed in free of charge by W. T. Biscoe, New York resident agent in the United States for the India State railways, who is in the city to address the Rotary club.

An Anglo-Indian by birth, Biscoe was given a commission in the Machine Gun Corps during the war and participated in the strenuous fighting in German East Africa.

"We had about as many pitched battles there with our own troops as we had with the enemy," he said.

"You can imagine how it was—dense tropical bush, in which neither side could see for any distance. The Germans wore khaki drill, and their black troops were also uniformed in khaki."

KNEW NO ENGLISH. "The British wore khaki, also, of course, and to add to the confusion, they had African and Indian troops, while the troops from South Africa, helping the Imperials, were in some cases, Boers from the backveld, who could only speak their own dialect and knew no English."

"If a party of Boers, for instance, were challenged by a black contingent of King's African Rifles, a battle started right away, each side being under the impression that the others were enemies. And the British colored troops came from East Africa, West Africa, South Africa, and British West Indies. However, it wasn't all confusion for us—sometimes the Germans made the same mistake with each other. And it was the rule on both sides in the case of a sudden encounter, to shoot first and ask questions after. All of which made it very interesting all round."

RAID ON STATION

Biscoe instanced one case in point, where word came into two different British outposts that German were about to raid a station on the jungle railway, decamp with all supplies and blow up as much of the track as possible.

Both British camps sent raiding parties to trap the Germans. One was a contingent of King's African Rifles under the command of an Italian Colonel, who had a mission with the British; the other camp sent a detachment of 90 Indian infantrymen in charge of a native officer. Biscoe, then in

BANK'S SUIT AGAINST POOL BEFORE COURT

Livestock Co-op. Refuses to Accept Liability for Sum of $12,000

Livestock Pool officials filled the specialists' well of the Supreme court room this morning when the Imperial Livestock of the Banquet Canadian National Association against the Alberta Co-operative Livestock Producers' Ltd., was opened before Mr. Justice Hurling.

The suit arises out of the affairs of the St. Paul Co-operative Livestock Association which got in financial difficulties in March 1930 a time when it owed the bank about $20,000. The bank has refused payment on cheques of the St. Paul association, so in the general interest of the livestock producers of the province, the Alberta Co-operative Livestock Producers' Ltd., commonly known as the Pool—undertook to act as trustee of the St. Paul association.

SILENCE OVERDUE. At the time of commencing suit there was a sum of over $12,000 due to the bank on account of the St. Paul association's affairs. This sum the Pool refused to accept liability for.

In the action both the St. Paul Co-operative Livestock Association and the Alberta Co-operative Livestock Producers' Ltd. are named as defendants. The St. Paul association and as a principal.

There is a great array of counsel in the case. For the Banquet Canadian National Association there are E. T. Bishop, L. A. Giroux, M.L.A., and J. Boyd McFarlane. Counsel for the defendant live stock association are H. H. Paries, K.C., and Hugh Stanton.

LIABILITY QUESTION

The question of the liability of the Alberta government for the financial commitments of the Pool in the matter, is expected to be raised at the trial proceedings.

The morning was taken up with reading the evidence on discovery of the Pool. Young, manager of the Alberta Co-operative Livestock Producers' Ltd.

In it Mr. Young told of how his association came to take over the Pool.

On the track, they were greeted with a volley and went into action right away, with the result that both sides lost more than half a dozen casualties.

Yes, it was a lovely war, all right.

Rough And Rocky Trail Lengthens

And still they come. Added chapters to the long story of the long standing feud between Dan Balke and his wife Sophie. Down through the months the woman has charged her husband with non-support, assault and what have you. Not to be outdone, Dan responded until the court became fatigued at the numerous complaints and counter-complaints.

Sophie finally left her husband and went to live at 1024 94 street, unknown to Dan. But last Sunday, according to police reports, Dan grabbed his young son on the street and forced him to tell where his mother was staying, and on Thursday morning Sophie showed up at the police station and brought with her a large staid rock, which, she said, had been looted through her bedroom window Wednesday night at 11:30 p.m.

Although she did not accuse her husband of the deed the drew attention to the fact that Dan had escorted her address from her son last Sunday. Police are in possession of the rock and are making investigations.

200 CHINESE KILLED

TOKYO, May 12.—Japanese military officials reported today that 200 Chinese rebels were killed in two battles between the Chinese and Japanese Chientao expedition near Yanki yesterday.

St. Paul association on March 8, 1930, as trustee.

A letter from the chairman of the Pool to the bank was read into the evidence, in which the trustee company offered to leave the account with the Banquet Canadian National Association if cheques were honored.

In return the Pool agreed to deposit the full proceeds of any live stock sales in the account.

RESOLUTION NECESSARY

This was followed by a letter of Mr. Giroux for the bank stating that a resolution of the board of directors would be necessary and also the receipt of a certified copy of the resolution.

The resolution, taking over the affairs of the St. Paul company and authorizing banking relations with the plaintiff bank, was duly passed and a certified copy forwarded to the bank which then sanctioned a further overdraft of $4000.

The trial is expected to occupy not less than two days.

Petition Premier Bennett to Fulfill Promise Made

Edmonton, May 12.—Bennett is to provide federal government for ex-servicemen at a reasonable rate of pay, not less than the old army rate, and that men be treated according to their individual fitness, with free medical attention on the work provided.

The Unemployed Ex-Servicemen's Association has written the premier requesting fulfillment of a promise made in 1928. Last year that ex-servicemen were to receive some consideration and protection on government work.

The letter is the result of a resolution passed unanimously at a special general meeting of the organization and sets forth the fact that under present conditions all work that the majority of ex-soldiers can get irrespective of their individual qualifications. In the nature of manual labor.

ASK DEFINITE POLICY

"And the greater number of them are not by reason of war experience, fitted to compete in the open labor market with the foreign element with which the country is flooded," says the covering letter which also asks that some definite policy with regard to ex-soldiers be adopted.

The paragraphs setting forth the request of the ex-servicemen's association are as follows:

"It is requested that federal work be provided for the ex-servicemen at reasonable rates of pay, certainly not less than the old army rates, and that the men be treated according to their individual fitness. That medical attention be provided on the works without the customary monthly deduction for that service."

"That the policy of treating ex-servicemen as transients inferior as relief measures—be—concerned."

"That free hospitalization for all ex-servicemen and their dependents be provided and that it be so arranged that provision be of a permanent nature."

"That arrangements be made for married ex-servicemen on relief to receive from the federal government cash compensation of whatever relief they may be receiving along the same lines as prevails through the D.S.C.R. with small pensioners."

W. T. BISCOE IS ROTARY SPEAKER

Gives Fine Lecture on India Illustrated

Holding his audience enthralled for close on an hour, W. T. Biscoe, New York resident representative of the India State railways, showed colored slides of India accompanied by descriptive comment at the weekly Rotary luncheon in the Macdonald hotel on Thursday. J. H. Chown was chairman of the day.

H. P. Brown handled the projection. The glamorous event was shown at its best in these pictures—golden-templed Buddhist shrines and golden domed temples, a white dromedary of marble built by an emperor as a memorial of the only woman he ever loved; battle torn old towers where Moslem and fiery Rajput battled in the desert for Rajpootana, the only unconquered portion of Hind, and last but not least, the grim gorges of the Khyber pass, through which poured Ayin-yah, Alexander the Great and Phalaris, Timur the Terrible and the tribesmen.

Mr. Biscoe took his audience on an imaginary tour from Bombay, across the Rajpoot desert, where monkeys hop into trains and steal little nick-nacks up to the temple of the Golden temple of Amritsar; great shrines of the warrior Sikhs; up to dreamy Kashmir and back to Lahore, to the gardens of Shalimar, where a man once loved pale hands; down to the Taj Mahal, a white dream of marble, built by Mumtaz Mahal by Shah Jahan, although Shah Jahan's father had 4,000 women in his seraglio, and Shah Jahan could have had the same, Mumtaz Mahal was the only woman he ever loved in the 14 years of her life and the 38 years that followed before the emperor died. Their white graves lie side by side under the dome of marble.

Then down to the Hindu shrines at Benares, where ascetics hang upside down with heads over first across to Burma, and finally down to Spicy Ceylon. Mr. Biscoe received roars of applause.

Wheat Acreage To Approximate That of 1931

Western Canada's acreage sown to wheat this year will approximate that of 1931, and wheat seeding is over 30 per cent completed in Alberta, over 50 per cent in Saskatchewan and over 50 per cent in Manitoba, with coarse grains over the prairies about 10 per cent seeded, according to crop reports received by the Scarle Grain Company, Ltd., from its stations in Western Canada.

Plentiful moisture supply is inclined to start seed and plant, and compared to a ten year condition the general moisture is 187 per cent in Alberta, 90 per cent in Saskatchewan and 94 per cent in Manitoba.

Practically all points reporting have had recent rainfalls, and queries as to producers intention to plant wheat indicate a decrease of less than one per cent from last season sowing.

Mail has been accumulating at McMurray all through the "in-between" season, when few and far conditions made it impossible to fly—but to land with any assurance of safety on the rivers. The ice has now cleared out of the Slave river, however, and it won't be long before air traffic will be general all through the north again. It will be some time before the lakes will be free of ice, however.

Northern Air Mail Leaves Ft. McMurray

The drone of airplane propellers was heard again in the northland on Thursday for the first time in more than a month as two Canadian Airways planes took off from the McMurray base with mail for Fitzgerald and Fort Smith. W. R. "Wop" May and Walter Gilbert, were at the controls of the machines.

WHY GAMBLE WITH A SECOND CHOICE TIRE WHEN GOODYEAR COST NO MORE?

Thousands of extra miles in these body-balanced Goodyear tires

You can get out of a tire only those miles that are built into it. Mileage is not a matter only of weight, size or tread design. It is a matter of construction—the fabrication of correct materials and their proper mating. Unbalanced tires will not stand the shock and speed of modern driving.

Goodyear tires are balanced. The same tire engineers and workmen who gave you the famous elastic-like Superwrist Cord and the All-Weather tread, build tires in which every part is moulded into one complete unit. In tires as Goodyear builds them, carcass and tread are one. Strong Superwrist Cord, protected by Goodyear-processed rubber, are built up layer by layer—evenly—uniformly—defying separation and friction.

The man who drives on Goodyears is free from the troubles he has had with unbalanced tires. All risks are lessened. Most risks are eliminated. Goodyear Tires are safe at higher speeds. They are non-skid. Their balanced construction defeats the attacks of modern brakes. The cause of the dreaded and dangerous blow-out—inner friction—heat—is conquered.

Goodyear Tires give thousands of miles of extra service because these miles are built into them—by Goodyear—the greatest name in rubber.

WHEN you retire, you will appreciate a guaranteed income of $150.00 a month—a never-failing income which will continue, without change, as long as you live!

Such an income spells independence. It opens the door to a care-free future. It means security from money worries.

To make your dreams of retirement come true, simply invest part of your earnings each year in Life Insurance. Your future income can be more than $150.00, or less—depending entirely upon the amount of savings you set aside for this purpose.

And should you not live to old age, your family is fully protected by the same Life Insurance—by the same monthly income.

Any Life Insurance representative will gladly give you complete information on this—the most modern form of Life Insurance. He can suggest an attractive income plan exactly suited to your needs.

With the opening of this schedule, it is little wonder that the coming engagements here are attracting widespread attention.

There are going to be some very uniform combinations seen when the schedule starts.

One of the newcomers who has the boys talking, and plenty, is Larry McKinley, new catcher signed on by the Young Liberals.

Bob Brown, whom you may remember as a mighty good port of the Toronto team, is back in the lineup.

The Big Four baseball league gets away on its 30-game schedule next Monday night when Riverdale, last year's champions, clash with George Anderson's C.N.R. nine, runners-up, at Boyle street park. Game is called for 6:30 sharp in order to give the fans sufficient time to attend the Chicago-Grand basketball game at the arena.

Mayor Dan Knott will be asked to throw the first ball for the season.

The teams have been working out for some time and the Railroaders expect to see their athletes in tip-top condition for the season.

Games will be played on Monday, Wednesday and Friday nights and Sunday afternoons.

The remaining teams composing the top six Alberta hotel and club teams are: C.N.R., Riverdale, and the others.

WEATHER IN NORTH HURTS BALL LEAGUE

Montreal Royals Score Twelfth Straight Win Wednesday

NEW YORK, May 12.—Although there have been no suitable complaints from the managers so far, the International League clubs have been taking a rough rubbing around from the weather since they moved here.

Since the opening in the north on May 1, the weather has been scheduled and 14 remain to be played in the season.

There was a different postponement, but the weather has been a double-edged sword and a winning streak just getting under way.

Coming home with a winning streak just getting under way, the Montreal Royals have won all of their nine home games to make them a row without a defeat.

After clearing up about the last of the rain, the Montreal Royals have won all of their nine home games to make them a row without a defeat.

Dominion Championships to be Completed for in Toronto

TORONTO, May 12.—Comprising one of the strongest entries on record, more than 100 of the finest sprinters in the Dominion are in Toronto today for the Canadian amateur boxing championships and Olympic trial tournament which gets under way at Maple Leaf Gardens tonight.

During the two-night boxing carnival, the pick of Canada's amateur fighters will compete for right to wear the Maple Leaf at the 1932 Olympiad at Los Angeles, Boston as far west as Victoria, B.C., and east to Montreal are in town for the tournament.

Nine representatives from Manitoba alone worked out in the local gymnasium yesterday and from appearances several of the western boys will be hard to beat for titles in the flyweight and bantamweight division to the heavyweight ranks. The entries have been exceptionally heavy. The welter and lightweight sections appear to have the edge on the other division as far as total entries are concerned.

Not less than 17 will participate in the 147-pound class battle for the title while it are included in the 145-pounder contest at present.

Only two Canadian champions of last year will be back to defend their laurels. Paul Frederickson, bantamweight winner, who captured the lightweight title, will have stiff competition in his class when he pairs against such promising boys as James Holmes and Gordon Thomas, Calgary, Harold Stewart, Montreal, Harvey Fleet, Edmonton, and Frank McNeil, Toronto.

Artie Johannesson, featherweight title-holder of last year and another Winnipeg boy, is the other defending champion. He will meet with such experienced campaigners as Johnny Walker of Montreal, Tommy Nelson, last year's bantamweight champion, and another Manitoba product, W. G. Grant of Edmonton. Eddie McNeil of Port William and Ray Cook of Toronto.

With 17 already in the running for the 147-pound class, Kirkland is assured. In the 145-pound class, it appears to have the edge over Ontario entrants while Nick Nickle and Tony Mancini will be the Quebec standouts.

Western hopes of capturing the welter title rest on the shoulders of Jackie Stewart of Winnipeg; Joe Deager of Swift Current, Sask., and W. E. Jackson of Regina.

Harold Stewart of Montreal and J. Christie of Camp Borden are the only two entrants in the tournament who were the Maple Leaf at the last Olympic games.

FIFTH ANNUAL SPORTS WEEK OPENS MAY 21

Sports and recreation has become one of the strongest and most powerful influences for the social, physical and mental improvement of the civilized world. Since human labor is being displaced in huge blocks by scientific machinery all over the world, the total amount of free time to be disposed of will be increasing and increasing and the whole problem of leisure will become one of increasing gravity.

Industry in the form of mass production, cannot do the work for our great population. There will be, in fact there now is a human surplus. Industrially speaking and the whole problem of employment for the enormous mass of human energy that is being released.

According to leading economic authorities, the only way to utilize this increased "surplus" value for the increased benefit of the entire population is in sport and recreation.

In line with these thoughts it is interesting and gratifying to note that the fifth annual celebration of Canadian Sports Week will be observed the week of May 21-27. Sports Week was inaugurated to bring about a more general appreciation of the many advantages that sport offers to the Canadian people. During that week sporting organizations, athletic associations and clubs throughout the country are arranging special programs with view to increasing membership and bringing sport more prominently to the notice of those who are "stay-at-homes" and "non-sporting."

In the world of sport the spectator does not derive nearly as much pleasure or benefit as does the participant.

Although it will be readily conceded that only a very small percentage of us can be winners, still the "game" has value and provides the greatest measure of enjoyment when one is merely able to develop his skill.

NEW CHANGES ARE MADE IN BASKET RULES

Summary of Changes in Rules Announced by Committee

The following is a summary of the changes in the basketball rules which will go into effect next season. The wording of the changes in the ball field, the outline of the new "ten-second rule" in possession of the ball, and the "three-second rule" in possession of the ball, are considerably before the Committee is published.

The present line across the center-circle is to be extended in both directions until it intersects the side-line.

(1) When a team gains possession of the ball in its own backcourt, this team must advance the ball over the center line and into the frontcourt within ten seconds. If the team fails to do so, the ball shall be awarded to the opposing team.

(2) When a team gains possession of the ball in its front-court as a result of (1), (2), (3), or (4) above, it may cause the ball to go back over the center line once only. Penalty—Failure to comply with the provisions of this section is violation—loss of ball to opponents.

Touching the center line is "over" in out-of-bounds decisions. The referee (or umpire) should count "one" and if it is a violation, the following method of counting should be used: "thousand-and-one, thousand-and-two," etc. None of the provisions of this section apply to courts less than sixty feet long.

A player shall not withhold the ball from play for more than three seconds while standing in the free throw lane with his back to his basket. Penalty: violation—loss of ball to opponents.

Violence is to be defined as personal contact which impedes progress of an opponent who has not the ball. Legally settling off the approach of an opponent (the "contact" interval) should be called settling.

Pass-guarding takes place when a player disregards the ball and faces an opponent, thereafter shifting his position as the opponent shifts, thus interfering with the latter's progress. Pass-guarding is a personal foul.

Players are to be numbered on the front and back of their shirts. Letters may not be used instead of numbers.

If a player in possession of the ball near the boundary line is forced out of bounds, a negligible amount of contact being involved, the officials are authorized to award the ball to that player. If the officials are in doubt as to which player is responsible for the out-of-bounds ball, jump ball should be declared.

If no free throw ball is missed the ring and back-board. It is to be awarded to an opponent out-of-bounds on the end instead of on the side.

Bulletin Expert Gives Outline of the Best System

Ed. Note: With interest in the Olympic Games greatly intensified by the fact that they will be held in Los Angeles this coming summer the Bulletin has prepared a series of articles dealing with the Games and with the individual sports that are included in them, with particular reference to Canadian athletes and athletes. Following is one of the series.

While some remarks have already been made regarding the training necessary for a hundred or two hundred and twenty-yard dash, the following points summarize the methods used by the best sprinters.

(1) Sufficient exercises such as walking, shipping, etc. should be taken that the muscles are in good physical condition. Care must be taken that the arms and shoulders are well developed.

(2) Go to the training grounds regularly for your practice. When practicing at the track have a plan of action in mind and then carry out the plan. Track training should always begin with the process of limbering. Take a little lot of about a hundred yards gradually increasing the speed but not extending the interval to the limit. In this keep on your toes and keep your knees well up. Forget the "running through" process as it is called two or three times. This serves to loosen up all the muscles and prepare the sprinter of the more strenuous work of the day.

(3) At the beginning of the season do not start your legs for two or three times you are out and do not exert yourself to the limit. Let your arms and legs (ligament) and be unable to train for weeks or months. After the first week's preliminary training a number of sprints should be taken every day you practice. About five or six sprints is sufficient each day. After the start has been made it is advisable to run as fast as possible about six or eight hundred yards, one hundred and fifty yards, one hundred and fifty yards, varying the distance from time to time. Always finish training for the day with a good run of about three hundred or four hundred yards in which you take a good stride and make fair time but do not exert yourself to the extent that you feel nearly "tired."

(4) The number of times one should train at the track per week is open to much discussion. Some train every day, others three times per week. If you train every day, there must be taken rest days to go stale. In training it is advisable to "work out" with the others as the interest is increased and the competition tends to "push you out" as it were and thus improve you.

(5) While the above comments refer particularly to the hundred yard dash, they also apply to the two hundred and twenty, in training for the two hundred and twenty it would be advisable in addition to the training noted above to run the distance at full speed about once every two or three weeks.

(6) When starting never try to "beat the pistol." Not only is this poor sportsmanship but it is not successful in most cases. The starter can easily tell if you plan to try to "beat the pistol" and if he desires to allow you to break and thus be handicapped at the start or two. In practicing the athlete forms the habit of waiting for the pistol and then starting as quickly as possible there should be no tendency to break the final race is on.

(7) In "getting out of the holes" it is necessary to have every muscle tensed and all mental energy concentrated so that the response of the body is as nearly as possible as possible. It is only necessary to start twenty or twenty-five yards in practicing the "get-away," but it requires sometimes another athlete is placed a yard ahead of the line and these on scratch start every muscle to overcome the handicap in the final distance.

(8) In getting away from the holes, a common mistake made by many athletes who are just starting to learn is to jump from a position almost erect. Too much care cannot be taken to prevent this habit being formed. While athletes vary in their methods of starting it is considered advisable to start with the head as the weight it will be during the rest of the race. By doing the rise is gradual, there is no jerk or unevenness to the get away.

(9) In starting and in running do not look down at your feet. Look straight ahead at the tape.

(10) Do not start at a maximum speed but be careful to slow down gradually as it is quite easy to be over-ligament by stopping too quickly.

(11) When the practicing is finished do not sit around with your running tops on. Go directly to the dressing room, have your rub towel changed if it is available and then shower if it is available and then get dressed in your regular clothes.

The joint basketball committee disapproves the use of the huddle in the game is delayed thereby, and authorizes a technical foul if such delay exceeds three seconds.

Whenever a foul is called on an opponent of a player who immediately after the foul succeeds in making a field goal, the goal is to be allowed if there is doubt whether the ball was in the air before the whistle sounded.

A Revolutionary Announcement! TIP TOP TAILORS REDUCE THEIR PRICE!

But, with this reduction in price, there will be no reduction in the high quality of our merchandise—actually, the standard of value of Tip Top tailoring has been raised. Effective today, the price of a Tip Top Suit or Topcoat is Twenty-Four Dollars and Fifty Cents—styled by skilled designers, fashioned to your twenty-one personal measurements by expert cutters, tailored with meticulous care by competent craftsmen and guaranteed to your satisfaction by the largest measure tailoring house in the British Empire.

MORE ABOUT PAVING

count of six per cent, or the company would accept 94 cents on the dollar on the face value of the interest notes, plus accrued interest.

At the meeting of the finance committee held before the council meeting, Ald. C. L. Gibbs asked Mr. Marshall, manager of the City Paving Co., whether the contract would be willing to accept debentures instead of a promissory note.

Mr. Marshall pointed out that long-term debentures were selling at 85, and that two-year financing was good business from the city's point of view.

At the present market, 15-year debentures would sell at 85. If a delay was made in the issue of the debentures there was not much hope of the market improving. Debentures of 15 to 20 years were not advisable, Mr. Marshall said.

Ald. Gibbs then moved that item (1) and (2) be proceeded with, subject to information on the main question charges on the street which it is planned to pave. This recommendation was not taken, the result would be in the evening.

At the council meeting, Supt. W. J. Cunningham, head of the street railway and power department,

Coronation Cadets Are Congratulated

Respect to Edmonton cadets. CORONATION, Alta., May 12.—Major Miller of Calgary conducted the annual inspection of the high school cadet corps last Friday. He congratulated the boys on their improvement.

Their standing last year was third in the district outside the cities. The special prizes awarded each year by the school board for neatness and appearance on parade were won by Brent Demore and Albert Thomas, while Delbert Warnock won the prize for best shot.

Declared that so far as the street between 30 and 80 street on 118 avenue was concerned, it would cost $1,500 to put it into shape for one to two years, while it would cost between $3,000 and $5,000 to put the road into shape for a period from three to five years.

He added that the track on this stretch was the worst on the whole system. The light rail was breaking up, and while not dangerous to traffic, it was a hazard to operation. It was highly desirable, he said, that the street improvement program should be proceeded with, as the poor condition of the pavement caused a depreciation on rolling stock.

If this stretch were paved it would give a paved road from 80 street to 118 street.

R. W. Devere, of the Edmonton Council of National Labor Union, appeared at the meeting and urged that if the paving projects were to be proceeded with, that unemployed taxpayers be given preference for the work.

In this connection, Mr. Marshall said that married men would be given as much work as possible. He also pointed out that the contract would give work to saving agencies, if they did not get jobs, might have to depend on their relief. Indirectly, much employment would be given if the project were carried out.

Ald. Gibbs asked whether the company would give an extension on the note at the end of two years if it was found necessary to ask for it.

NO EXTENSION. Mr. Marshall replied that the city couldn't get an extension on the note as it was a promissory note.

Then Ald. C. G. O'Connor enquired whether the city couldn't arrange with the company for a longer time on the note or a re-advance.

KIDNAP BABE DEAD

WORLD SORROWS WITH LINDBERGH PAIR

ROSS CASE FIRST U.S. ABDUCTION

The kidnapping in New Jersey of the infant son of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh recalled to police officials a long list of kidnappings during the last several decades. Outstanding were the following:

- 1874—Charles Ross of Germantown, Penn., never found despite years of diligent search, offers of large rewards, and, more recently, frequent claims of persons that they are Ross.
- 1889—Gerald Lapiner of Chicago, later found in Ohio.
- 1900—Edward Cudahy, scion of the wealthy meat packing family; Pat Crowe served a prison term for the abduction; Cudahy now lives in Chicago.
- 1907—Rose Giordano of New York, later returned home. The kidnappers were arrested two years later.
- 1908—Billy White, of Sharon, Penn., released after the payment of $10,000 ransom; kidnappers were sentenced to prison.
- 1910—Michael Solmeica of New York, held for 8,000 ransom and later found slain.
- 1911—Letha and Hazel Gretchel of Chicago, brought back from Kenosha, Wis., unharmed.
- 1911—Baby Hencks of Chicago, fate a mystery; believed to have been slain.
- 1913—Catherine Winters of Newcastle, Ind., never found.
- 1915—Ginny Glass of Jersey City, N.J., believed to have been slain.
- 1917—Baby Lloyd Keet of Springfield, Mo., slain.
- 1919—Billy Daney of New Jersey. His body was found months later in a swamp.
- 1924—Bobby Franks of Chicago, slain for a "thrill" by Nathan Leopold and Richard Loeb, university students, now serving life and 99-year terms in the State penitentiary at Joliet, Ill.
- 1931—Dr. Isaac D. Kelley of St. Louis; held for $150,000 ransom, but released after paying an undisclosed sum.

Scottish Nurse Had Premonition of Woe

Betty Gow, the Scottish nurse of little Charles Lindbergh, had a "premonition" that something unusual was going to happen in the Lindbergh home, it was revealed.

Betty Gow

A "Mrs. Taylor," Miss Gow's mother, a resident of Glasgow, Scotland, told the Sunday Express that Betty had recently written her expressing the fear that "something was going to happen."

The nurse had given this statement to her mother in promising to come home soon. Mrs. Taylor told the Express she was sure her daughter "had never dreamed of the baby being kidnapped."

Curly-Haired Wee-Est of "Wee"

This is perhaps the most excellent likeness of kidnapped little Charles Augustus Lindbergh, Jr. It is one of several which were taken by Colonel Lindbergh himself and released for publication in order to aid the national-wide search for the missing child.

NEIGHBOR DISCOVERS TINY BODY OF INFANT

TRENTON, N.J., May 12.—Governor A. Harry Moore of New Jersey late today said he had been informed by Col. H. Norman Schwarzkopf of the state police that the kidnapped Lindbergh baby was found dead near the famous flier's estate at Hopewell, N.J.

Schwarzkopf informed the governor, the latter said, that the body was found by neighbors near the Lindbergh home.

The child was kidnapped on March 1, and since that date the entire world has been searched for the missing baby.

The flash came over the wires just following another sinister dispatch, in which it was stated that negotiations being conducted off the Virginia coast for the return of the kidnapped baby were described today by a high official as being hampered by underworld lieutenants of Al Capone, who wished to recover the child themselves for whatever benefit might accrue to their imprisoned leader.

In "black light" science has a solution for protecting babies from kidnappers of the type who broke into the Lindbergh home.

Some of these protectors already are in use, invisible beams of two kinds of "black light," infra-red and ultra-violet, which fall like protective bars around baby cradles.

Other devices, but which are not yet in use, would photograph the kidnapper plainly in pitch darkness. There is also the Knowles tube, so sensitive that no beam nor contact is necessary. A kidnapper's hand reaching past one of these into the baby's crib would set off the tube by mere electrical capacity present in all human hands.

These devices are explained by Dr. Phillips Thomas, research engineer of the Westinghouse Company.

"A number of wealthy men," he says, "have had their homes and offices equipped with photo-electric cell devices used in conjunction with ultra-ray light. These rays are invisible both in lighted and darkened rooms, and therefore it is impossible for an intruder to move about without being detected, as the rays can be placed at various angles."

How Lindys' Baby Was Stolen From Nursery Crib

At 10:30 p. m. the nurse closed the nursery door and the baby was left alone. The kidnapper entered the room and took the baby. The kidnapper fled the room. The baby was found in the nursery.

FORGIVE, FORGET? NO SUCH THING

Dear Miss Dix—My wife and I were married when I was 20 and she was 19. Our children came close together and she had her hands full with them and with her home while I was struggling to support the family. We both worked night and day almost for thirty years, during which time we became cold to each other. I admit I erred by marrying, though I never considered for one moment deserting my wife and home.

Now our children are married and I am very lonely and I want to win her back again just as she was in the early days when we were first married. How can I win her back? We are both over middle 50.

A DEVOTED HUSBAND.

Answer: Alas, we cannot have our cake and eat it, too, which is a homely truth that men find it hard to accept. They are always desiring themselves that someone they are going to be able to pull off this matrimonial feat, but they never do.

In his youth a man is faithful to his wife. He plays around with other women. He insults her by his amours and tears when find it hard to accept. They are always desiring themselves that someone they are going to be able to pull off this matrimonial feat, but they never do.

And, of course, it never happens. It is one of the things that can't be because there is really no such thing as forgiving and forgetting. Always there is the memory in the back of a woman's mind. Always the way that erred. Always the contempt for his weakness. Always a complete chastisement.

So for you to expect your wife to be in love with you as she was in the old days when she trusted you to be the impossible of life. Not in the 50s can you expect the rhapsodies of young love in any event, but there is no reason why you and your wife should not establish a friendship that will be a solace to both of you as you do down the last stretch of the road.

I often think that married people make no greater mistake than they do in not looking forward in their youth to the time that will come to them when their children are married and gone and they are left to depend on each other for companionship. It is just as important for them to lay up some comradeship for this rainy day as it is to lay up some money for their old age.

Your Baby and Mine

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

IS YOUR BABY TOO FOND OF HIS THUMB?

By some qu'ry of human nature, the mother who would to be most proud by her child's thumb-sucking, pays the least attention to it. Not the mother whose baby should be without energy at his fist or thumb sucking heaven and earth to stop it.

There is much tendency to a dramatic manner about thumb-sucking. Whether we let the child indulge or make some attempt to discourage his thumb-sucking depends entirely on his type.

The type of thumb-sucking in it is harmless—let him alone. But the hand-sucker—let him alone. But the child whose thumb is stuck in his mouth most of his waking hours, and who sucks upon it vigorously and persistently, does real damage to the shape of his mouth and the alignment of his teeth. The type of thumb-sucking not only deforms the child's mouth, but is also a crushing to his mental development.

If the child's or infant's diet is deficient, as it may be, the softness of the bones will make this unnatural pressure on the mouth even more damaging. The first of all, check the child's diet to be sure that it is a good one and that he is not suffering from any degree of rickets. Assured of this, leave the mild thumb-sucker alone, and divert the attention of the persistent thumb-sucker or so change his environment that thumb-sucking need no longer be a habit.

A HANDICAP

No child can go about the business of living wholeheartedly if he is handicapped by a thumb in his mouth. He needs both hands for any healthy activity, and he needs healthful activities to increase his knowledge and his skills. One of the reasons why thumb-sucking should be checked is that it inhibits the child's mental development. But the method by which some parents attempt to end this habit is worse than the habit. Among the undesirable methods belong the practice of painting the thumb with some evil tasting drug, or putting on stiff cuffs at the elbows, or slapping or hurting the child when he is caught with his thumb in his mouth, or threatening him with awful punishment if he does not stop.

DISREGARD CAUSES.

Such methods simply disregard the CAUSES of the thumb-sucking and treat the habit itself. They may work in isolated instances. Every method can be successful some of the time. In the majority of cases, however, they are not only unsuccessful, but also actually increase the child's interest in his thumb. He will be angry that it is the unplayful, ill-adjusted, nagged, and scolded child who finds the greatest pleasure when sucking the uninteresting pursuit of thumb-sucking. The wide-awake, alert, peaceful, and happy child has no craving to his mental development.

Thumb-sucking is too often a sign of energy, an inability to find suitable associates or stimulating interests. My leaflet, "Thumb-sucking and Some of its Causes," offers suggestions about decreasing the child's interest in his thumb. Send a self-addressed, stamped envelope with your request to Mrs. Eldred of the "Your Baby and Mine" department of this newspaper.

Changing the child's diet, giving him an opportunity to play without sulking, nagging, and a stream of "Don't do that," are usually sufficient to end the habit, since it has no real excuse for existing. It bludgeoned without injuring it. (2) My 1-year-old daughter has a heavy head of hair, but it has begun to come out quite a bit. How can I stop it falling out? MRS. D. Answer—When a child's hair begins to turn dark it is a sure sign that he is a pure blonde, and it is useless to try to make her own hair white. Besides, blonde hair is dark at the roots, no matter how light it is at the ends. Besides, bleaches are bad for children's delicate hair.

Who Are You?

This surname originated with the personal name of Emery, or Almericus, which is equivalent to the Italian Amerigo. Latinized Amerigo, whence comes the name of the great continents of the Western World.

This name appears to have undergone several changes. Beginning with the name of Emery, it changed to Emory, and there are families still using this spelling. Emory is another form; Amory and Amory are the latest and the most usual spelling encountered today.

In the ancient Domesday book, the name was spelled Hamerinc. It is believed that the Amory family in England was established by one Amory, who came from Tours, France, to England, as a follower of William the Conqueror.

Some Americans of this name trace their ancestry to Hugh Amory, who was living in England in the sixteenth century.

HERE'S GREAT YARN FOR THAT FELLER RIPLEY

Both Friend and Foe Wore Khaki in Africa With Disastrous Results

Here's a good "Believe It or Not" story handed in free of charge by W. T. Biscoe, New York resident agent in the United States for the India State railways, who is in the city to address the Rotary club.

An Anglo-Indian by birth, Biscoe was given a commission in the Machine Gun corps during the war and participated in the strenuous fighting in German East Africa.

"We had about as many pitched battles there with our own troops as we had with the enemy," he said.

"You can imagine how it was—dense tropical bush, in which neither side could see for any distance. The Germans wore khaki drill, and their black troops were also uniformed in khaki."

NEW NO ENGLISH

"The British were khaki, also, of course, and to add to the confusion, they had African and Indian troops, while the troops from South Africa helping the Imperials were, in some cases, Boers from the backveld, who could only speak their own taal tongue and knew no English."

"If a party of Boers, for instance, were challenged by a black contingent of King's African Rifles, a battle started right away, each side being under the impression that the others were enemies. And the British colored troops came from East Africa, West Africa, South Africa and British India, India. However, it wasn't all grief for us—sometimes the Germans made the same mistake with each other. And it was the rule on both sides in the case of a sudden encounter, to shoot first and ask questions after. All of which made it very interesting all round."

RAID ON STATION

Biscoe instanced one case in point, where word came into the different British outposts that Germans were about to raid a station on the jungle railway, decamp with all supplies and blow up as much of the track as possible.

Both British and sent raiding parties to trap the Germans. One was a contingent of King's African Rifles, under the command of an Italian Colonel who held a commission with the British; the other a camp sent a detachment of 60 Indian mountaineers in charge of a native officer. Biscoe, then in

Livestock Co-op. Refuses to Accept Liability for Sum of $12,000

Livestock Pool officials filed the spectacular suit in the supreme court this morning when the important lawsuit of the Banquet Canadian National against the Alberta Co-operative Livestock Producers' Ltd. was opened before Mr. Justice Ewing.

The suit arises out of the affairs of the St. Paul Co-operative Livestock Association which got in financial difficulties in March 1929, a time when it owed the bank about $20,000. The bank has refused payment on cheques of the St. Paul association, so in the general interest of the livestock producers of the province, the Alberta Co-operative Livestock Producers' Ltd., commonly known as the Pool—undertook to act as trustee of the St. Paul association.

$12,000 OVERDUE

At the time of commencing suit, there was a sum of over $12,000 due to the bank on account of the St. Paul association's affairs. This sum the Pool refused to accept liability for.

In the action both the St. Paul Co-operative Livestock Association and the Alberta Co-operative Livestock Producers' Ltd. are named.

There is a great array of counsel in the case. For the Banque Canadienne Nationale there are E. T. Groulx, L. A. Groulx, M. L. A. and L. S. Fraser of Groulx and Fraser; and J. Boyd McBride. Counsel for the defendant, live stock associations, are H. H. Parlee, K.C., and Hugh Stinson.

LIABILITY QUESTION

The question of the liability of the Alberta government for the financial commitments of the Pool in the matter, is expected to be raised at the trial.

The morning was taken up with reading the evidence on discovery of Wm. Young, manager of the Alberta Co-operative Livestock Producers' Ltd.

In it Mr. Young told of how his association came to take over the down the track, they were greeted with a volley and went into action right away, with the result that each side had more than half a dozen casualties.

Yet it was a lovely war, all right, not less than two days.

Rough And Rocky Trail Lengthens

And still they come. Added chapters to the long story of the long standing feud between Dan Balle and his wife Sophie. Down through the months the woman has charged her husband with non-support, assault and what have you. Not to be outdone, Dan repeated until the court became fatigued at the numerous complaints and counter-complaints.

Sophie finally left her husband and went to live at 1034 9th street, unknown to Dan. But last Sunday, according to police reports, Dan grabbed his young son on the street and forced him to tell where his mother was staying, and on Thursday morning Sophie showed up at the police station and brought with her a large dead rook, which, she said, had been tossed through her bedroom window Wednesday night at 11:35 p.m.

Although she did not accuse her husband of the deed she drew attention to the fact that Dan had ex-corted her address from her son last Sunday. Police are in possession of the rook and are making investigation.

20 REBELS KILLED

TOKYO, May 12.—Japanese military officials reported today that 20 Chinese rebels were killed in two battles between the Chinese and Japanese Chientao expedition near Yenki yesterday.

St. Paul association on March 3, 1930, a trustee.

A letter from the chairman of the Pool to the bank was read into the evidence, in which the trustee company offered to leave the account with the Banque Canadienne Nationale if cheques were honored. In return the Pool agreed to deliver the full proceeds of any live stock sales in the account.

RESOLUTION NECESSARY

This was followed by a letter from Mr. Groulx for the bank stating that a resolution of the board of directors would be necessary and also the receipt of a certified copy of the resolution.

The resolution, taking over the affairs of the St. Paul company and authorizing banking relations with the plaintiff bank, was duly passed and a certified copy forwarded to the bank which then sanctioned the further overdraft of $4000.

The trial is expected to occupy not less than two days.

Petition Premier Bennett to Fulfill Promise Made in Edmonton

Asking Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett to provide federal government work for ex-servicemen at a reasonable rate of pay, not less than the old army rate, and that men be treated according to their individual fitness, with free medical attention on the work provided, the Unemployed Ex-Servicemen's Association has written the prime minister requesting fulfilment of a promise made in Edmonton last year that ex-servicemen were to receive some consideration and preference on government work.

The letter is the result of a resolution passed unanimously at a special general meeting of the organization and sets forth the fact that under present conditions all work that the majority of ex-soldiers can get irrespective of their individual qualifications, is in the nature of manual labor.

ASK DEFINITE POLICY

"And the greater number of them are not, by reason of war experience, fitted to compete in the open labor market with the foreign element with which the country is flooded," says the covering letter which also asks that some definite policy with regard to ex-soldiers be adopted.

The paragraph setting forth the requests of the ex-servicemen's association are as follows:

"It is requested that federal work be provided for the ex-soldier at reasonable rates of pay, certainly not less than the old army rates, and that the men be treated according to their individual fitness."

"That medical attention be provided on the works without the customary monthly deduction for that purpose."

"That the policy of treating ex-servicemen as transients instead of measures are concerned, cease."

"That free hospitalization for all ex-servicemen and their dependents be provided and that it be so arranged that this provision be of a permanent nature."

"That arrangements be made for married ex-servicemen on relief to receive from the federal government a cash augmentation of whatever relief they are receiving along the same lines as prevails through the D.S.C.R. with small pensions."

W. T. BISCOE IS ROTARY SPEAKER

Gives Fine Lecture on India Illustrated

Holding his audience enthralled for close on an hour, W. T. Biscoe, New York, resident representative of the India State railways, showed colored slides of India accompanied by descriptive comment at the weekly Rotary luncheon. Biscoe (Macdonald hotel) on Thursday, J. H. Chown was chairman of the day. H. P. Brown handled the projection. The glamorous event was shown at its best in these pictures—golden-skinned Burmese girls and golden domed temples, a white stream of marble built by an emperor as a memorial of the only woman he ever loved, battle from old towers where Muslim and fiery Rajput battled in the desert for Rajputana, the only unconquered portion of Hind, and last but not least, the grim gorges of the Khyber pass, through which poured Aryan invaders, Alexander the Great and Phalaris, Timur the terrible and the like.

Mr. Biscoe took his audience on an imaginary tour from Bombay, across the Rajputana desert, where monkeys hop into trains and steal little tick-tocks, up into the Punjab and the Golden Temple of Amritsar, great shrines of the warrior Sikhs; up to dreamy Kashmir and back to Lahore, to the gardens of Shahjahan, where a man once loved a pale hand; down to the Taj Mahal, a white dream of marble, built to Mumtaz Mahal by Shah Jehan. Although Shah Jehan's father had 4,000 women in his harem, and Shah Jehan could have had the same, Mumtaz Mahal was the only woman he ever loved in the 14 years of her life and the 36 years that followed before the emperor died. Their white graves lie side by side under the dome of marble.

Then down to the Hindu shrines at Benares, where ascetics hang upside down with heads over fire, across to Burma, and finally down to Spicy Ceylon. Mr. Biscoe received rounds of applause.

Wheat Acreage To Approximate That of 1931

Western Canada's acreage soon to wheat this year will approximate that of 1931, and wheat seeding is over 30 per cent completed in Alberta, over 30 per cent in Saskatchewan and over 30 per cent in Manitoba, with coarse grains over the prairies about ten per cent seeded, according to reports received by the Seattle Grain Company, Ltd. from 821 stations in Western Canada.

Western prairie supply is indicated to start seed and plant, and a ten year general moisture is 107 per cent in Alberta, 96 per cent in Saskatchewan and 98 per cent in Manitoba.

Practically all points reporting have noted rainfalls, and queries as to producers intentions to plant wheat indicate a decrease of less than one per cent from last season's seeding.

Direct from a constitution stipulation, the claim being that the legislation is an infringement of the constitution powers controlling trade and commerce. The provincial government does not accept this view as it is thus contesting the action.

Mail has been accumulating at McMurtry all through the "in-between" season, when ice and flood conditions made it impossible to fly—to land with any assurance of safety on the rivers. The ice has now cleared out of the St. Lawrence river, and it won't be long before air traffic will be general all through the north again. It will be some time before the lakes will be free of ice, however.

Northern Air Mail Leaves Ft. M. Murdoo

The drop of airplane propellers was heard again in the northland on Thursday for the first time in more than a month as two Canadian Airways planes took off from the McMurtry base with mail for Ft. Gerald and Fort Smith. W. R. "Wop" May and Walter Gilbert,

WHY GAMBLE WITH A SECOND CHOICE TIRE WHEN GOODYEAR COST NO MORE?

hundreds of extra miles in these body-balanced Goodyear tires

You can get out of a tire only those miles that are built into it. Mileage is not a matter only of weight, size or tread design. It is a matter of construction—the fabrication of correct materials and their proper mating. Unbalanced tires will not stand the shock and speed of modern driving.

Goodyear tires are balanced. The same tire engineers and workmen who gave you the famous classic-like Superwrist Cord and the All-Weather tread, build tires in which every part is moulded into one complete unit. In tires as Goodyear build them, carcass and tread are one. Strong Superwrist Cord, protected by Goodyear-processed rubber, are built up layer by layer—evenly—uniformly—defying separation and friction.

The man who drives on Goodyears is free from the troubles he has had with unbalanced tires. All risks are lessened. Most risks are eliminated. Goodyear Tires are safe at higher speeds. They are non-skid. Their balanced construction defeats the attacks of modern brakes. The cause of the dreaded and dangerous blow-out—inner friction-heat—is conquered.

Goodyear Tires give thousands of miles of extra service because these miles are built into them—by Goodyear—the greatest name in rubber.
